Times Hometown news

by Al Bano

Two more weeks and school will start again. . . were those sighs of relief I heard out there. . .

But before starting off on another educational campaign, we'll close the books on the 1975-76 school year by naming some of the local students who made it on the spring semester honor roll list at Costa College in San Pablo.

Trying harder from Albany were Nadira Khalaf, Dorothy Carter, Constance Delores Costa, Ed Paul Hansen and Martin Raymond O'Connell.

Not doing too bad themselves were Kenningians Cynthia Arro Concepcion, Gale Louise Crowley, Virginia Marie Holtermann, Karen Mar Hoyer, Steven David Lecom, Donald Emerson Miller, Eileen Yvonne Morents, Jane N. Riden, Sandra Kay Ruderman, William Francis Sever, Paulette Sorter, Pauline Hilary Sorter, Tom O'eman Tipton and Dorothy Young.

Our congrats. . .

Answer to that name game question two weeks ago. . .

Nancy McKeown McFarland, Kenneth Logan, Donald Klose, Ronnie Kleinhammer Allen, Rene DeYoe Smallegen, Malcolm Thornley, Marjorie Geering Klose, Judy Stocking Bombal, Karen Mengenthorn, Linda Forrest Saffiro, Michael Gleason, Sally Klemm, Lyn Fletcher, Carolyn Heath, Susan Luoma, Marco Meniketti, Helen Belden, Jan Wilson, Linda Berry, Reggi Foster, Kathy Enos and Peter Wallmann are Albany High School students who have traveled or are traveling abroad under the auspices of the Albany Chapter of the American Field Service.

It took Col. Sam Dows a couple quick glances at his memory, while Fern Luoma had only to blink her eyes twice to figure it out. . .

Can't blame Mr. and Mrs. Aate Hanski of Albany for smiling so much nowadays. . . the couple became grandparents to a 10-pound, five-month baby boy, nee Jason Walter Hanski. Jason, born August 2 at Alta Bates Hospital, is resting comfortably at his pine home now with parents Bert and Rita Hanski.

Milestone . . . 1952 graduate of St. Mary's School Robert J. Fischer has retired from the United States Navy and will leave with the rank Lieutenant Commander sprinkled over his uniform and cap after 22 years of service.

Robert most recently served with Training Squadron 23, Naval Air Station, in Kingsville, Texas.

Incidentally, Robert's wife, Janice, is daughter of Marian and George Bernard.

The fact that George is Albany's official spokesman sort of explains that 21-thunder salute we enjoyed two Sundays ago. Talk about connections.

News from up north . . . Larry and Peggy La former Portland Avenue residents in Albany, finally settled in Redding. Larry was recently transferred by his employer, Safeway, to California's scarlet city.

Politics may make strange bedfellows, Albany Unified School District employee Debra O has discovered it makes even stranger menus.

Lunching at Hazel's Restaurant on San Pablo Avenue last week, she spied on the menu a gem: Jimmy Carter sandwich battling for attention with Jerry Ford counterpart. The Carter fare included two slices of bread, some jelly and, of course, peanut butter. For what it's worth, the Ford offered boasted two slices of bread and a huge slice of baloney.

It took Debra about 10 minutes to stop laughing, but when she did, the baloney got her vote.

Like parents like son . . . Curtis Street's Albany and Kingsley Berndt's enthusiasm for bowling rubbed off on son, John, with a passion.

With a flick of his wrist, a twirl here and a there, John shot a 237 game last week in the Pe Summer Prep League at Albany Bowl.

As we understand it, fellow bowlers and spectators gave 12-year-old John a round of applause after his striking feat.

Too bad John's pop wasn't there to witness but with Kingsley, duty does come first. After all, is an Albany fireman.

Anniversary congrats to Albany Rotary and Rotarians Anita and Bob Brilliant, Olga Jim Crangle, Mary and Claude Daughtry, andleen and Bob Bacigalupi.

All four couples do'd it in September.

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 292's chap Betty Mayo entered a "Book of Prayers" competition recently and won in the department. The entry's off for judging in national competition now.

Forms issued for 'lifeline' rates

ALBANY — Local residents, who use electric home and water heating appliances, should note forms that will be included soon in their billing. PG&E officials announced today.

Lower-rate "lifeline" allowances apply to gas and electricity, but residents, who use electric home and water heating appliances rather than gas, must fill out the forms to account for increased electricity usage to qualify for additional "lifeline" allowances.

"Customers should read this notice carefully to determine whether they qualify for additional electric lifeline allowances," said Joseph Y. De Young, PG&E vice president - customer operations.

Lower "lifeline" rates apply to basic minimum amounts of gas and electricity used by a household in a month. Usage above those amounts is billed at higher rates.

Those able through conservation efforts to keep their gas and electric use within the lifeline quantity limits will benefit most from lifeline rates.

In setting new "lifeline" allowances on July 15, the California Public Utilities Commission fixed basic minimum amounts of gas and electricity for lighting, cooking, food refrigeration, home heating and gas water heating will be automatically granted, but persons with permanent electric home heating and/or electric water heating must apply to PG&E for higher electric allowances for these uses instead of gas allowances," said De Young.

"As the bill insert explains, not everyone need fill out and return the questionnaire included with his bill," De Young emphasized.

"However, to receive the lifeline allowance for electric home or water heating, the form must be returned promptly to PG&E. No action by the customer is needed if electricity is not used for either of these purposes."

Completed questionnaires may be sent in with bill payments, DeYoung said.

Newly connected customers will receive the same information with their first bills.

SWINE FLU

about Berkeley's swine flu vaccination program, residents should call 849-3000.

In Contra Costa County, enough volunteers have been signed up for the vaccination program. However, a need still exists for volunteer help from medically-trained people including nurses and doctors.

One-day clinics are currently scheduled for swine flu vaccinations in El Cerrito and Kensington, but a site has yet to be selected for Kensington.

According to county health officials, a site able to hold at least 250 parked cars will be needed. Kensington residents with suggestions for such a site should call 372-2969.

Several sites are tentatively on the list for El Cerrito, but a final selection has not been made, officials said.

In Alameda County the health agency has announced it is maintaining a county-wide surveillance of any reported cases of influenza.

Although persons will be encouraged to obtain shots from personal physicians, shots will be available from the health agency at no charge for all persons 18 years of age and over at clinic sites throughout the county.

Starting date for all immunization programs will depend on the vaccine delivery date. Currently no agency has any vaccine.

Persons over 65 and those suffering from chronic diseases such as respiratory and cardiac problems are considered in the high risk category.

EBMUD tax rate down to 13 cents

OAKLAND — Increased property assessments have helped cut the East Bay Municipal Utility District (EBMUD) tax rate for the second year in a row.

EBMUD serves residents in Alameda and Contra Costa counties.

The 13 cents per $100 of assessed valuation rate, established last week by the board of directors, is the lowest since 1925, two years after EBMUD was formed. The tax rate was 14 cents in 1975 and 15 cents in 1974.

Director A. C. Carrington, chairman of the EBMUD Finance Committee, said the latest reduction was related to sizable increases in property assessments imposed during the last year in the areas of Alameda and Contra Costa counties served by EBMUD.

"Continuing the 14-cent rate would have provided us with more income than we need for the activities financed from property taxes," Carrington said, "and we didn't want to take advantage of any such windfall at the expense of the taxpayers."

EBMUD's water system property tax pays for facilities, in excess of normal needs, which provide additional capacity for supplying water for fighting fires.

Because of differing assessment practices in the two counties, the actual adjusted tax rate for each county will be somewhat higher or lower than the basic 13-cent rate. The new rate for Alameda County will be 12.4 cents, a drop from 14.3 cents in the past year; the new Contra Costa rate will be 14.6 cents, compared to 13.6 last year.

Adjustments are made in accordance with a determination by the State Board of Equalization that Alameda County is now appraising property at a higher rate in relation to true market value than in Contra Costa County.

The basic property tax rate for EBMUD's Special District One, which treats sewage for nine communities in the Oakland-Berkeley area, was continued at seven cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

The adjusted Alameda County rate will be 6.9 cents, and the Contra Costa rate will be 7.9 cents. The differential in these rates again reflects differing assessment practices in the two counties.

Property taxes for Special District One cover costs of the system which are not directly chargeable to sewage treatment customers, such as stormwater which infiltrates the sewer system, and oversizing facilities for future growth.

JERRY WILLIAMS

Local man gets VFW award

ALBANY — Jerry Williams of Portland Avenue, state service director for the Veterans of Foreign Wars, was recently presented the V.F.W. National All-American award for his work as State Commander last year.

The award is given to state commanders who maintain state V.F.W. membership at 100 percent or more over their one-year term.

Under Williams, California membership in the V.F.W. shot past the 80,000 mark.

Nationwide 25 state commanders received All-American awards.

The award included round-trip transportation to New York City for the presentation, a specially-designed lapel button, an honored guest at the 1976 National Convention Distinguished Guests' Banquet in New York.

Ordinance study

Sign inventory planned

By NORMAN COLBY
I-G Staff Writer

ALBANY — An inventory by the city will determine which business signs in Albany are non-conforming under the new sign ordinance and which are illegal, not having ever received a permit.

The city council Monday night decided to get the facts after receiving a warning that there are many "unlawful" signs within the city limits.

This is in addition to signs made non-conforming by the new sign law which recently received preliminary approval. A 10-year time limit would be allowed for all non-conforming signs under the proposed law.

The fact that there are signs which don't even meet the old standards was revealed in a letter to the council from Sam Dows, former head of the city planning and zoning commission.

He mentioned a tire outlet and an automotive sales firm as two of the chief offenders.

In addition to the inventory urged by Dows, the council decided to provide notification of the new sign law to all local businesses, enabling those with sign deficiencies to know where they stand.

During discussion, Councilman Lewis Howell objected to "self-appointed inspectors" who he said are going to people's homes and warning them about violations of the laws. He said he was not referring to Dows.

In other business, the council:

—Heard Councilman Robert Luoma "take exception" to what Luoma believed were earlier remarks by Councilman Mike Gleason criticizing "some council members" as "not caring" about the city waterfront project.

—Learned that the Charter Review Committee is considering proposals for making the chief of police appointive instead of elective.

—Approved installation of stop signs at Portland and Santa Fe Avenues.

—Approved an application for an encroachment permit for a six-unit store building at 1160 Solano Ave. as requested by Jerome Blank. The city staff favored it, although the audience expressed fears about earthquake safety aspects.

—Set Sept. 20 as a hearing for several sign applications by Albany Hospital.

Hospital, commercial signs meet approval

ALBANY — The Albany Planning and Zoning Commission has approved the designs of two commercial signs in addition to one submitted by Albany Hospital.

The commission last week approved the design of a 1½ by 2½ foot sign planned for the Evelyn Avenue side of Albany Hospital on condition that the city council grants a variance for its erection.

A variance is needed since the signage area exceeds limits set in the city code. The hospital had submitted designs for four signs at last week's public hearing on the matter but withdrew applications for three of them at the hearing.

Also approved by the commission were signs submitted by Marshco Auto Parts, 660 San Pablo Ave. and Precision Auto Body, 630 San Pablo Ave.

In other business the commission:

—Recommended the city council approve a variance application by Mr. and Mrs. Art Reinbrecht to construct an addition to their 903 Yuba Ave. residence that would extend four feet into the required front yard; —Approved the architectural design of an addition to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lee at 938 Stannard Ave.;

—Gave design approval to Marvin Collins for remodeling of store fronts at 749, 751, 753 and 755 San Pablo Ave.;

—Approved the architectural design of a 45-unit apartment building to be constructed at 409-415 Evelyn Ave.

EBRPD candidates

OAKLAND — Three candidates in November will be seeking a seat representing Ward I of the East Bay Regional Parks District, which covers Albany, Berkeley, Piedmont, a portion of Oakland, Kensington, El Cerrito, Orinda Village and portions of Richmond.

Candidates, who filed by the closing date, include Morris Hurley, 56, educator of Piedmont; Mary Lee Jeffers, 55, of Berkeley, the incumbent and environmental education consultant; and Donald P. Miller, a thropologist of Berkeley.

Other seats also up for election include Ward 2, 4, and 6.

Consultant Percy Butler

Another BART candidate

GLENN MAYEDA
I-G Staff Writer

Mechanical consultant Percy Butler is seeking Richard Clark's seat on the BART board of directors.

According to Butler, the key to BART's problems lies in the hands of the central computer system, which at present has not been able to keep the trains running on schedule for any great length of time.

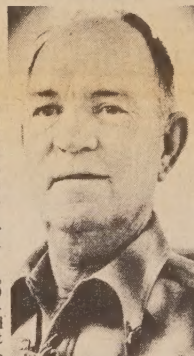

"This country has over 75-years of transit experience," Butler said.

"BART has 450 new cars, but only an approximate 200 will operate daily. Railroads, airlines, buses, and trucking companies can put 98 percent of their transportation equipment into operation on any given day, why can't BART?" he asked.

Butler is running in the BART Third District which includes Berkeley, Albany, Piedmont, parts of Oakland and Kensington in Contra Costa County.

If elected, Butler said that his first priority would be to see that the BART trains finally begin to run on time.

In order to do this, he would initiate the use of a "mechanically-sound railroad principle" and suggest a traffic signal at set specified intervals along the track. The engineer of each train would then obey the signals, just as a motorist obeys a traffic light.

Butler says that the major advantage to the Robison System is that it would affect only that particular train that is suffering a malfunction instead of the entire BART system as is currently the case.

While he admits that the changeover would be costly, he said it would be better than the "mucky mess" now that is being run.

An instructor in mechanical trades at the Merrick Colleges, Butler holds a degree in mechanical engineering and has vocational education in heavy industry mechanics. He was also responsible for industrial plant equipment under the Preventative Maintenance Program at the former San Francisco Naval Shipyard.

He lives with his wife Judith at 833 The Alameda in Berkeley.

Albany police officer foils kidnap attempt

ALBANY — An apparent kidnap was foiled early Friday morning when Albany police arrested Carl Hon-sher, 29, of 1514 Macdonald Ave., Richmond, near Gilman Street exit, bound on Interstate 80.

The victim, Vincent Dunham, 31, of 1300 Lence Ave., El Cerrito, was with Honsher in a late Ford pickup at the time, apparently unharmed, according to police.

The arrest was made 12:38 a.m. by Albany police officer Edward Delano who spotted the pickup being alerted by El Cerrito police.

Although details are sketchy, the alleged abduction occurred near Kensington in San Pablo, and a fire was involved, police said.

Honsher, who was in a San Pablo city jail, was released to the custody of Costa sheriff deputies Sunday.

CONSERVATION

water saving kits which are being offered to selected neighborhoods on a pilot basis. The kits contain devices for reducing flows in toilets and showers, and dye tablets which indicate any leaks in toilets.

If use of the kits is accepted by the public and cuts water consumption in the selected homes, Hitchcock said they may be offered throughout the entire EBMUD service area.

EBMUD also is sending out individual letters to homes and businesses where wasteful water uses have been observed and is encouraging people to advise EBMUD business offices when they see water being wasted. "We hope this direct, personal approach will open more people's eyes to the contributions they can make towards stopping water waste," Hitchcock commented.

"Every time I drive down the street and see water running down the gutter, I find myself wishing there were some magic way of getting everybody to pitch in."

"One of the most common abuses is leaving the hose running while washing the car. Using a bucket of soapy water, and running the hose just for rinsing water could honestly save us millions of gallons of water every year."

Hitchcock added that EBMUD is also working with municipal gutter flooders — cities and other public agencies which overwater street dividers and freeway landscaping.

"We have contacted every agency we know of," he said, "and will follow up to the fullest extent possible."

EBMUD has also successfully found and fixed leaks in its own system, using special crews and listening devices for detecting hidden leaks under the streets.

"We're also checking back on high water meter readings of large customers to make sure they are aware of increased consumption and possible causes," Hitchcock stated.

He pointed out that the entire campaign, an expansion of a four-year-old program, is being accelerated, "partly because of the drought, but mainly because, in the long-run, water conservation will have to be a part of everyone's life."

Someday is Thursday, September 2. Somewhere is Hilltop.

Shopping was never like this. Until now.

Now there is Hilltop. Over a million square feet filled with soaring sculptures, spraying fountains, skylight ceilings, movie theatres, restaurants, graceful walkways, a year-round ice arena. And stores.

'Quick-draw' theme

Scottish games this weekend

By JERRY GANDY
I-G Asst. Sports Editor
It's just like the hackneyed horse opera theme. The gunslinger rides into town to prove himself against the hero with the quick draw reputation.

The occasion is the 111th annual Scottish Gathering and Games staged by the Caledonian Club of San Francisco at the Santa Rosa Fairgrounds Saturday and Sunday, and kilts, rather than 10-gallon hats, will be the appropriate attire.

Bill Anderson, who has won more than 2,000 trophies over the past 19 years in caber tossing competition, is coming from Scotland to throw the 19-ft., 120-pound log.

Anderson will be challenged by an American caber slinger, just like in the western movie plot, in the person of Brian Oldfield.

The 6-5, 275-pound pro shot putter is no stranger when it comes to Scottish sports, according to John Dickson, chairman of the Labor Day Weekend competition.

"Oldfield is the U.S. caber champion," points out Dickson, "and he'll enter the other weight events. He'll throw the Scottish hammer, a 16-pound weight attached to a wooden shaft, and put the stone, a 28-pound weight."

The games are staged for athletes of Scottish descent or thick Scottish, according to Dickson. Oldfield won't be required to wear kilts for his high noon showdown with Anderson. (The Scottish hammer throw actually is scheduled for 12 noon Sunday.)

"We expect 22,000 spectators," Dickson predicts, "and the most asked question will be, 'What do they wear under the kilts?' It always is, 'I've been on the committee a number of years, but I seldom see the competition because there's so much to do.'"

Dickson explains that the Scottish forms of weight throwing were military in origin.

"The weights were used in preparation for war as a form of physical conditioning," he relates. "The different clans chose the colors of their kilts to blend into the trees and brush as camouflage in their areas. The dyes were made from the vegetation in each area. There probably are 140 to 150 different tartans."

Dickson is hopeful of adding soccer to the Scottish Games next year, but on a limited basis to confine the sport to a busy schedule which also includes the traditional dances, pipe bands and piping and drumming exhibitions.

"I'd like to see a five-to-a-side soccer tournament," Dickson explains.

Saturday's events will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Sunday's schedule will run from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

"This all started 111 years ago when a group of Scottish families rowed from San Francisco to Emeryville for a family picnic," explains Dickson. "There probably are 50,000 Northern Californians of Scottish descent, maybe more."

In addition to witnessing Scottish sports, spectators will have an opportunity to sample Highland ales, meat pies, shortbread and other Scottish foods.

Admission is $3 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12 with proceeds earmarked for charity.

Yoga course for expectant moms

BERKELEY — A beginning yoga class for expectant women will be held 7:30 to 9 p.m. Thursdays, beginning Sept. 2, at the Berkeley Women's Center, 2112 Channing Way.

A sliding fee of $10 to $20 will be charged for the five-session class which will be limited to 12 students. For information, call 849-3809.

Cops seek EC burglar

EL CERRITO — Police were searching today for the burglar who made off with a considerable amount of cash from the home of Frank Sipos, 2325 Tamalpais St.

A neighbor spotted a youth running from the place about 7 p.m. Tuesday, police said, and it is believed he was the burglar. He was described as black, about 16, five feet six and was wearing a denim hat.

Just a 12-year-old

Youngster bowls a 237

ALBANY — John Berndt, a 12-year-old Albany student, fired a 237 game in last week's Pepsi-Cola Prep League action at Albany Bowl, easily surpassing his previous league high game of 194.

Berndt, who has been bowling since age four, had a high 189 game as an 11-year-old last season. The youngster also has shown athletic ability on the baseball diamond, where he played minor league ball in Albany this summer.

Maurice Searcy took top honors in the sweep on the final night of the 540 Scratch Trios League season at Albany Bowl with an aggregate of 681.

His games of 245-192-214 were augmented by 36 handicap pins to give him a nine point bulge over John Cassidy, who also registered a 245 game. In third place was Norm Curtis, 661.

Championship of the Volney Morrison Memorial League went to Sterling Chevrolet, which locked up the title with a 3-0 decision over Safeway despite Steve Parks' 568 set for the losers. Pauline and Jerry Von Mosch, Priscilla Banks and Ed Childress comprised the winning team.

The league's best scores, however, were offered by people on teams further down the standings list. Doug Fowler had 224 game and 602 series, Bob Balcombe 593, Charley Anderson 587 and Bob Frost 578.

Tennis club slates meeting

ALBANY — The Albany Tennis Club will hold its regular monthly meeting at 8 p.m. Sept. 1 at Memorial Park clubhouse, Pomona and Portland Avenues.

Members will meet at 6 p.m. for informal matches at the courts.

The agenda will include a discussion of whether the club should maintain a library of books not found in the Contra Costa and Alameda counties' library systems and the selection of a person to write the club's newsletter.

Women's softball

Solano Club takes top spot in men's softball

ALBANY — Solano Club has wrapped up the first round title of the Albany Park and Recreation Department's Men's Liniment Softball League, outlasting several other teams who stayed close until the final week of play.

The league leaders swapped defending champion St. Ambrose, 18-3, as Scott Dana went three for four and kept his average near the .800 mark.

St. Ambrose also dropped a 15-5 decision to Tom's Terrifics in a tight game unraveled in the late innings, as the winners pushed across 11 runs in their final two times at bat.

Capping a perfect week, Tom's Terrifics notched a 29-5 victory over Al's Big Burgers as the winners' Rick Holcomb led the attack with a booming homerun. Rick Kempe led the losers with two hits.

In other action Oliveiro Plumbing stunned the Over-the-Hill Gang, 12-9, as Jerry Oliveiro and Dave Nordahl banged out three hits apiece. Betti and Berndt clubbed solo homers for the losers.

Ted Valli and Harold Manuel each collected three hits to pace the Champs to a 12-3 decision over the Winners, whose attack was led by Jesse Pena and Don Quigley, each singling twice in a losing cause.

The race for the second round title continues with games played weekdays at 6:15 p.m. at Memorial Park.

 purposes of education," a use which is not taxable under the law.

Meanwhile, Shep Salusky, external affairs director for the UC-Berkeley student association, said his organization is currently collecting funds from other student associations around the state to defray legal costs.

"We are telling the other schools that if we lose this case," he said, "it is very likely that the tax will be imposed where they reside too."

Himelstein said he will ask the judge on Sept. 13 to extend the temporary restraining order against imposing the tax until the matter comes to trial.

Carousel won't close, yet

Friends of the Tilden Park merry-go-round, who may have been dismayed by news that the carousel would close down next week, can breathe easy for at least two more months.

East Bay Regional Park District directors and merry-go-round operator Harry Perry met this week and agreed to extend the lease for 60 days, until the end of November.

After the agreement Perry took down the sign which stated that the carousel would close Sept. 6. He had hung the sign earlier this month when negotiations over the sale of the merry-go-round to the EBRPD broke down.

The district hired an appraiser who set the value of the vauldity at $142,000, but Perry and his silent partner, John Davis of Los Angeles, asked for a rent-free 10 year contract and fringe benefits that would, according to the EBRPD, cost $360,000 over that time.

The park directors then called for an executive session to discuss possible litigation over the merry-go-round.

According to a park district staff member the trustees could sue for breach of contract because Perry's lease does not run out until Sept. 30 and he is required to give 30 days notice before closing.

But before the meeting, which was held yesterday afternoon, the district reached a new agreement with Perry.

In addition to the extension of the lease the directors agreed that Perry would call in his own appraiser.

an agreement," Perry said.

John J. Leavitt, president of the EBRPD board, said, "We've been brought a lot closer together."

Under the terms of an offer which EBRPD made to the owners on Aug. 26 the district would have paid them a $50,000 down payment and cut the percentage of ticket sales going to the district from 10 percent to three.

When negotiations broke down Jay Ver Lee, consultant, began a nationwide search for antique carousels and located five throughout the country. All were less than the price asked for the existing Tilden merry-go-round, he said.

Mortuary again member of order

ALBANY — Ellis-Olson Mortuary at 727 San Pablo has been accepted for membership in the International Order of the Golden Rule for the 13th consecutive year, according to Roger Ytterberg, executive director of the order.

The order is the world's largest, limited-membership organization for funeral directors.

Before being admitted, a firm must be recommended by families it has served and by other professional people in the area. To remain affiliated a firm must request annually.

"Over the years, the order has become more a professional group. There are now nearly 1300 members throughout the world," Ytterberg said.

He pointed out that regional meetings and an international conference are held each year to offer members new information relative to the profession.

"Our entire concept of what is 'relative' to the profession has changed in recent years," Ytterberg said.

"With the growth of thanatology, grief therapy, other fields of study in the universities, we are able to obtain speakers with new and valuable things to say. emphasis is now placed upon making funeral services helpful and meaningful to the survivors, to those who left behind and must go on," he added.

Research is conducted at the order's home in Springfield, Ill., and information is made available to members through newstapes and newsletters.

The store also offers a selection of greeting cards, prints and handmade gifts.

The store will feature dried flower arrangements. Ms. Alpert and her partner, Patty Erhardt, will make custom displays. The shop will also provide a full range of equipment for persons to do their own arranging.

The store will be open Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. For further information, call 527-0974.

School signups

EL CERRITO — El Cerrito and Kensington parents whose children will be attending Richmond schools for the first time in September and who did not register during the spring semester are urged to register next week at the school they will attend.

Elementary schools will be open 9 a.m. to noon, to 3:30 p.m., through Friday, Sept. 3.

Junior and senior high school students who did not attend local schools last year are also asked to register 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m., next week at the school they will attend.

Parents can call the Richmond Unified School District, 234-3825, Ext. 296, to find out which school children should attend.

State law requires that a child entering kindergarten must be at least four years, nine months of age by Sept. 1 and that first grade enrollees must be at least five years, nine months old on the same date.

AC Transit tax cut

OAKLAND — Property taxes will be cut this year for most AC Transit taxpayers.

A new consolidated rate of 45.9 cents per $100 of assessed valuation has been set by the district board of directors for Special District 1, which includes urban cities stretching from San Pablo to Hayward.

The rate is a reduction of 1.4 cents below last year's consolidated rate of 47.3 cents.

Because of a different assessment ratio, taxpayers in Alameda County will pay 44.8 cents per $100 of assessed value.

Alameda County for the year was assessed at 45.9 percent of market value.

The state legislature requires all counties to reduce the assessment rate to at least 25 percent of market value.

In Contra Costa County, where the assessment rate is 25 percent of market value, the tax rate will be 50.9 percent.

14 small antique shops in old Albany warehouse

What mementoes of America's Bicentennial year will become sought after in future centuries?

"The key word is quality and anything of good quality that is well made is likely to increase in value. Best buys in antiques for investment today seem to be walnut, cherry and mahogany woods, furniture which is 100 to 125 years old or more, since this has more value to begin with and usually is very well made," explained Nanci Shafsky of Kensington.

A collector of antiques for many years, Nanci and her husband, Boyd, became interested in them while he was serving with the U.S. Navy in New England.

"We would drive out on dirt roads in any kind of weather to pick up a piece which interested us and always felt the real antiques were in New England because the area is older. When we arrived in California, we found that people here considered things from the Victorian era antiques," Nanci recalled.

Their shared interest led the Kensington residents to open their own shop, Still Life Antiques. One of 14 antique shops housed under one roof at 1501 Solano Ave., Albany, theirs offers furniture (mostly mahogany), porcelain and silver. The 14 antique shops have been in operation since May and a 15th will open soon. The building is owned by Phil Wood, who conceived the idea of renting space for the mini-stores, all in the same building.

No walls, partitions or other dividers separate the 14 shops, so the prospective customer is free to browse. Each shop is operated individually with its own salesperson and accounting system.

"Individuals make arrangements with one another to staff each other's shops, and most of us are familiar with the merchandise and policies of the others. This is a friendly place and we cooperate even though we are not a 'cooperative,'" Mrs. Shafsky explained.

Hours at 1501 Solano Avenue are 12 to 6 p.m., Wednesdays through Fridays; 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Saturdays; and 12 to 5 p.m., Sundays. Mrs. Shafsky said there are many antique shops along Solano Avenue and a free directory of them is available.

"There is a mixture of ages and lifestyles among the shop owners here, some have or have had other shops, but most of us have just started. The variety of merchandise reflects the varied tastes of the people who own the shops," Mrs. Shafsky continued.

"Chests of drawers or dressers are the first antiques most people buy, although round oak tables, and brass beds also are very popular now. Young people seem to buy oak and golden oak pieces from England are very pretty. Better buys in antiques often are found in other woods because the workmanship may be better. People in their late 30's and older seem to be not as fond of oak and their purchases show a trend toward pine, mahogany, walnut and cherry woods," she reported.

Also popular with antique buyers are the things called "collectables," small pieces in china, glass and silver, such as silver cigarette cases, the Kensington resident said.

"Many such small items are being purchased as gifts for high school or college graduations, as well as birthdays, Mothers' Day or Fathers' Day, and an increasing number of youngsters come to antique shops with a surprising amount of money they have saved to buy a gift for a parent who is a lover of antiques," Mrs. Shafsky noted.

"The biggest mistake people make in buying antiques as an investment is not knowing the market," Mrs. Shafsky warned. "Even one's 'mistakes' sometimes turn out to be good and all antique buyers have made such mistakes at times," she admits, remembering her early years as a collector.

"We think antiques are a wonderful value as an investment and my husband feels the buyer of a well-made, quality antique can figure on an 8 to 10 percent increase in its value each year," Mrs. Shafsky said.

Pieces from the 1930's such as art deco furniture seem to find a ready market today, the antique buff added.

Long, Long Ago, the shop at 1501 Solano Avenue which is owned by two El Cerrito school teachers, offers oak furniture and art deco pieces. The owners are Carol Ostiguy of Berkeley, who teaches physical education at Portola Junior High School, and Barbara Gunderson, physical education and English teacher, who resides in Albany.

Other shops at the Solano Avenue address are:

Elaine Ensler Antiques, owned by Elaine Ensler who specializes in restoration of old brass lamps and has a wide selection of antique lamps from which to choose.

Pauline's, Pauline Kelley, owner, has furniture, jewelry, glassware, dolls and toys which are antiques. She just acquired 42 black baby dolls in different styles.

Lost and Found, Bill Doniger, owner, has a variety of small brass Early American things, such as scales, barometers and weights. It also offers maps and tintypes.

Something Different, George Pappas and Arlene Abelow owners, has everything from furniture to collectibles.

Brass Beds of San Francisco, owned by Jane Downes, sells and manufactures brass beds. The shop has antique brass beds, as well, or can reproduce a brass bed according to a specific antique design.

Compass Rose specializes in Oriental art, furniture and jewelry from all over the world. It is owned by George and Bea Randall, who are assisted in the shop by their twin daughters, Torri and Fuzzy.

Antique oak furniture is featured by Diane Donnelly, Jerry and Diane Donnelly, owners. Hand that Rocks the Cradle has antique cradles, baby carriages and high chairs and also repts these things.

Alameda Mine, Annita Pappas and Tito Simboli owners, has antique furniture, mainly pine and some mahogany.

Phil Wood owns Bermuda Triangle, which has a variety of antique items ranging from whimsical to serious. Moke Mokotoff, owner of the same name, has items from India and Nepal, jewelry, brass and copper pieces, and rugs.

Firmname Enterprises, Shelley Tolin and Randall Badat owners, has antique oak pieces, other antique furniture, and objects d'art for the collector.

"May and June were good months for business. July was slower because of vacations."

BART board sets tax rate

OAKLAND — The board of directors of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District (BART) has set fiscal 1976-77 tax rates of 42.2 cents per $100 assessed valuation in Alameda County and 47.8 cents in Contra Costa County.

The rates, set last week by the board, are required as payment for annual principal and interest on the system's obligation construction bonds and include a five-cent tax to cover BART administrative costs.

Applied to property in Alameda, Contra Costa and San Francisco counties, the 1976-77 rates is down in Alameda County from the 47.1 cents levied last fiscal year, and up in Contra Costa County where last year's rate was 44.7 cents.

San Francisco's tax rate in fiscal 1976-77 is 47.1 cents, down from 49.9 cents last year.

Rates vary due to different assessment practices in each county and are established in accordance with the State Revenue and Taxation Code sections dealing with equalization of property taxes levied by a district covering more than one county.

By formal request from the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors, BART's tax rates this year was equalized by adjusting rates to compensate for variations in ratios of the assessed value to full market value of taxable property.

Ratios this year, as determined by the California State Board of Equalization, are: Alameda 25.8 percent, Contra Costa County 22.8 percent, and City and County of San Francisco 23.1 percent.

BART Director of Finance William F. Goetz noted that, while the rate for Alameda and San Francisco Counties decreased from last year's levies, Contra Costa County's had to be increased due to this year's lower ratio in that county. Last year's assessments in Contra Costa County were based on 26.1 percent of assessed valuation, as opposed to 22.8 percent this year.

The BART Board also established a new 1976-77 tax rate of 17.8 cents (down from last year's rate of 19.2 cents) on Berkeley residents for interest and principal payments on a 1966 special local bond issue used to construct a subway through that City, rather than the aerial trackway previously authorized by the voters in the 1962 referendum.

The new tax rates, effective for the period July 1, 1976 to June 30, 1977, will be used to fund a debt service budget of $44,537,788 for BART general construction bonds, and $720,844 for the Berkeley special issue.

Steger asks to join EBMUD

EL CERRITO — The Steger Sanitary District has made a formal request to the East Bay Municipal Utility District to take over its entire operation.

The request was made last week at a meeting of the Steger Board of Directors.

At an EBMUD meeting earlier in the week, general manager John Hartnett reported that Steger board member M. M. Snodgrass brought up the question of a takeover during a convention in San Diego.

Since 1970, EBMUD has handled all sewage operations for the Steger district, with the exception of maintaining the pipes.

EBMUD director Helen Burke said she "agrees in principle that Steger Sanitary District should be disbanded" but she doubts that EBMUD should take over.

"I'm not certain EBMUD should be in the collection business," she said. "It would also set a precedent although you could argue that Steger is a one-of-a-kind situation."

She also said that the City of El Cerrito might be the logical entity because the entire city is served by Steger and it comprises about 70 percent of the district.

Also served by Steger is Kensington.

KOO-KOO THE CLOWN — Television entertainer Koo-Koo the Clown will appear 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sept. 4 at the El Cerrito Plaza to greet children and give away candy and balloons.

Lawrence Hall honors ACS with exhibits

BERKELEY — To celebrate the 100th anniversary of the American Chemical Society and the 75th anniversary of its California section, Berkeley Lawrence Hall of Science has opened two new exhibits.

The exhibits, "Chemistry in California's History" and "Energy," are supported by a number of national industries, the Energy Research

Sales, use tax funds distributed

SACRAMENTO — The City of Albany will receive $46,500 as its share of the more than $107 million distributed in the August apportionment to cities and counties of local sales and use tax funds.

The funds represent the third advance payment for the second quarter of 1976. Alameda County will receive $510,000; Berkeley, $350,000; Emeryville, $175,500; and El Cerrito, $80,000.

Cities will receive $69.9 million and counties $12.1 million in general fund monies. Counties will receive an additional $20.5 million from the quarter percent local sales and use tax for the county local transportation fund. Alameda County's share was $1,080,000.

The San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District (BART) will receive $4.6 million from the additional half percent sales tax paid in San Francisco, Alameda and Contra Costa counties.

Spanish talk

ALBANY — A special lecture on cancer, delivered entirely in Spanish, will be held at 7 p.m. Sept. 8, at Albany Library, 1216 Solano Ave.

Your banker should be your neighbor.

There's something refreshing about banking with local people.

Maybe it's the good feeling you get from people you're comfortable with, people you understand.

Maybe it's knowing that your questions can usually be handled by the person you're talking to—not an anonymous someone in another city.

Maybe it's discovering that your bank is just as concerned about your community as you are.

And maybe—when you put it all together—it's finding people whose outlook, interest, and ideas are closer to home.

In our quiet way, The Mechanics Bank has been working with the people of the East Bay over 70 years. In that time you've grown, and we've grown with you. Right now, we're one of the East Bay's largest banks.

Sure, we could expand to other areas if we wanted to. But we believe in serving the people we know.

So we're going to stick by the principle that's guided us right up to today. At The Mechanics Bank, we believe your banker should be your neighbor.

For adjustments, return tire to Wards with Warranty Booklet. Prorata charge based on price in effect at time of return or branch to which returned, including Federal Excise Tax.
